

Zapfl

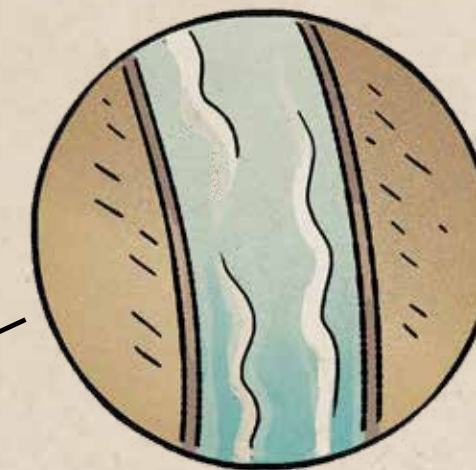

The placid water supplier likes to take it easy. When he is not sleeping, Zapfl can be found on long walks in the forest. Drenched in love, Zapfl makes almost everything blossom as soon as he holds it in his hands.

Bark, bast & cambium – Zapfl has a thick skin. Hardly anything gets him easily flustered.

Zapfl's little liver cleanses his water of evil thoughts and other dirty remnants.

Zapfl's life is one single flow. Water, extracted from the ground and the air, washes Zapfl's inner vessels. And just as it is extracted, it later runs away again – returned to the environment in the best possible condition.

Zapfl shares an intimate, symbiotic, loving relationship with Freddie Fliegenpilz. The two of them are inseparable.
